

Rules for your four-legged friends

Dear client, your four-legged friend reminds you about the rules:

Don't leave me alone in the room! Firstly because I feel alone and, for spite, I might mess something up or inconvenience the other hosts.

I have come on holiday with you, so take me to the beach to enjoy myself or to stroll together on the sea shore! There are so many corners of Sottomarina and Chioggia that I would like to see and which I would like to let myself be conquered by.

Keep me on a leash when we are in the facility! What about going to the beach? I've heard that the beach owned by InDigaForDog is well equipped. There is a reserved space to let me play with other friends and suitable for running, running, running!

Our friends at Mosella Suite Hotel supply us with dog poop bags. Use them! If you run out, just ask the reception for more!

I give the orders in my house! I am a guest here, yet, I feel anyway at home! I like lying on the sofa or sleeping in bed with you. Use the doggy sheets, so I am comfortable.

While I have a fur, you have your hair. Similarly, while you lose your hair, I shed. There is a cleaning service for me and one for you! At the end of your staying, you will have to cough euros 15,00 per night up for the cleaning with suitable cleansers and sanitizers.

Since I don't speak your language, make sure you inform the reception if I messed something up! Of course, you will be charged extra and Mosella will credit you with this payment. If you want to avoid this, check me!

Might I get ill, there is a vet available 24/7, ready to look after me! I can sometimes be a burden, I understand that! Ask at the reception for a dog sitter.

I don't need other dog bowls at home, so leave them to the friend of mine who will come to the suite after me.

The management of the Mosella Suite hotel thank your furry friend!
